"Real Love Letters of a Real Girl"

"I am not going to beat the big drum of sentiment and make a wailful noise. Nothing is so dead as a dead infatuation. The more a person has been infatuated, the more he resents an The more a person has been infatuated, the more he resents an attempt to galvanize the dull, dead thing into life. I am wise, you see, to the end. And reasonable, too, I hope. And brave, And brave, I tell you. Do you think I will be a coward, and cry out? I make you a present of everything; of the love and happy thoughts, of the pleasant dreams and plans, of the little prayers sent up, and the blessings called down—there were a great many every day—of the kisses, and all the dear sweetness. Take it all. I want nothing from you in return. But do you suppose that, having given you all this, I am going to give you my soul as well? To moan my life away, my beautiful life? You are not worth it. You are not worth anything, bardly, You are unstable, invertebrate. My life shall be splendid in spite of you. You shall not cheat me of one single chance of heaven, "—(From Franklein Schmidt and Mr. Anstruther in the November Deliveator). the November Delineatory.
